

Corporate iPhone Development

Have one of the first corporate applications on this revolutionary device. Whether by porting an existing application or developing one from scratch, Vitil IT can help you become a part of the iPhone phenomenon. Our unique combination of skills and experience makes us the ideal choice to develop your corporate iPhone application.

With the much-anticipated iPhone hitting the streets, here at Vitil IT our developers are thrilled at the thought of developing new and innovative iPhone applications. Vitil IT are eager to offer unique applications that suit your business needs ready for your iPhone as soon as you pull the shiny handset from its coveted black box.

With fresh ideas running through our developers minds, we are itching to work along side you in developing applications that are customised for your business, entertainment and utility applications for Apple's iconic device.

Applications for the iPhone could integrate workflow processes for managing the quotation process, from recording customer details and scheduling appointments to providing pricing options and compiling a detailed quotation; users can e-mail a professionally formatted quotation complete with company letterhead and logo directly from their iPhone. Along with iPhone standard Maps & Driving Directions feature, one-touch dialing allows iPhone users to call customers directly from within Quote Sheet for iPhone.
